Everybody likes apple dumplings,

but the following is one a little more claborate than the everyday affair and very good Baked Apple Dumplings,-Select tart apples that do not lose their shape in cooking. Pare evenly after removing the cores, put the apples into water enough to float them; add a cupful of sugar and cook until almost done. Remove with the skimmer and cook the sirup until thick. Place each apple on a square of pastry; fill the cores with butter, lemon juice and sugar and drop the strup over the apples. Moisten the tips of the pastry and press together over the top of the apple. Put on a baking tin and bake a nice brown. Serve with cream just sour enough to become thick, into which has been stirred powdered sugar or marshmallow sauce.

Economical Plum Pudding.-Mix in the order given, one cupful of fine sifted crumbs, one and one-half cupfuls of flour, two tablespoonfuls of baking powder, one teaspoonful of salt, one cupful of finely chopped suet, one-half cupful each of raisins seeded and chopped one of well-washed currants. A few slices of citron may be added if desired. Beat one egg with the juice and grated rind of one lemon and two tenspoonfuls of allspice; add one cupful of molasses and mix with the dry Ingredients.
